VERIFIED HIGHER-LEVEL PLAYING EXPERIENCE

Jean Alvarado (R/R): Doncaster identifies a professional playing career in Venezuela. MLB and Baseball-Reference list a Jean Alvarado who played for the Baltimore Orioles' Dominican Summer League affiliate in 2016 (29 games). Name and club background support the match, but confirm full identity before treating the minor-league entry as definitive.

Blake Exizian (R/R): Four-year U.S. college player, including Spartanburg Methodist College and NAIA Appalachian Athletic Conference competition; named to the 2026 All-Conference First Team. Also competed in U.S. collegiate summer leagues and at Frankston before signing with Doncaster.

Other players: No additional current report player could be confidently linked to higher-level experience and handedness in the checked sources. Angus Stals has documented U.S. college experience at Three Rivers but is not listed in this report's five-game player tables.

BLAKE EXIZIAN | CAUTION

Exizian's 2.57 ERA across 7.0 IP warrants CAUTION rather than ATTACK. His 8 walks and 2.14 WHIP still support disciplined at-bats; avoid interpreting those command concerns as evidence that he is easy to score against.

ROUND 5 PITCHING NOTES

Takuya Takahashi: 4.0 IP, 3 H, 6 K, 1 BB, 0 ER. Season 8.0 IP, 3.38 ERA, 1.62 WHIP. Better command profile than the other reported options.

Gage Mason: 1.0 IP, 1 H, 3 K, 0 BB, 0 ER. Season 8.2 IP, 14 K, 10 BB. Strikeout threat, but season-long walk risk remains.

Pitcher handedness: Exizian throws right-handed per his own published player profile. Other pitchers are left blank pending an identity-matched source.

DONCASTER | TEAM PITCHING TOTAL · FIVE GAMES

IP 34.2 H 40 BB 36 SO 39 ER 26 ERA 6.75 WHIP 2.19 K/9 10.1 BB/9 9.3

Strike-throwing is a major team-wide concern: 36 walks in 34.2 innings (9.3 BB/9), including 35 walks from five pitchers other than Takahashi. Prioritize disciplined at-bats; do not assume every pitcher lacks command.

DONCASTER | MATCHUP & LINEUP PLAN

TOP OFFENSIVE THREATS

Jean Alvarado (R): 8-for-11, .727 AVG, prior extra-base production; highest contact priority. Avoid free passes ahead of him.

Blake Exizian (R): 7-for-18, three doubles. Right-handed gap-power threat and collegiate All-Conference player.

Fernando Figueroa: 6-for-17, six RBI. Handedness unverified; focus on traffic ahead of him.

Shorato Morimoto: Round 5 home run and two RBI; avoid mistakes in damage counts despite modest cumulative average.

Kycen Dowling: .474 estimated OBP, two doubles, four walks. Caution on base-reaching ability.

MELBOURNE PITCHING PLAN

Avoid multi-run innings created by walks before Alvarado, Exizian and Figueroa. Set defensive alignment from verified swing tendencies and live-game observation, not presumed pull tendencies or unverified handedness.

RUNNING GAME & DEFENSE

No verified pitcher delivery times, catcher pop times, or opponent stolen-base success rates were supplied. Assess opportunities live.

RECENT GAME CONTEXT

Doncaster reported a 2–0 win against Blackburn. Supplied player runs appear inconsistent with that score; keep the previously supplied five-game ladder RF 23, RA 38 and RD –15 provisional until reconciled.

DONCASTER | MELBOURNE ATTACK PLAN

OFFENSIVE APPROACH | PATIENCE WITH SELECTIVE AGGRESSION

Work counts against walk-prone options, particularly Dowling, Utting and Mason. Against Exizian, remain disciplined but recognize his 2.57 ERA and treat him as CAUTION, not a favorable matchup. Do not automatically take hittable strikes.

Takahashi's six-strikeout, one-walk Round 5 appearance suggests a different approach: prioritize contact quality and situational execution rather than relying on free passes.

MAKE RELIEF TRANSITIONS MATTER

Build pitch counts and maintain disciplined at-bats through pitching changes. Mason's three-strikeout, zero-walk inning shows that his swing-and-miss ability must still be respected.

PREGAME VERIFICATION CHECKLIST

Confirm probable starter and recent workloads; Doncaster official RF/RA; Blackburn score versus supplied player runs; missing handedness and player identity matches; full historical HBP/SF; lineup assignments and available video.
