BATTING APPROACH | LINEUP & DEFENSIVE NOTES

Joshua Meyer: clear extra-base threat (one HR, three doubles); protect against damage with runners aboard.

Chase Hodkinson and Declan Ferguson: reliable contact in supplied sample; prioritize clean defensive execution and limit free bases.

Harrison Wills: walks and occasional running pressure; force strikes without giving up easy advancement.

Jordan Taylor Barnett: elevated strikeout tendency; challenge in the zone.

Overall: 30 runs in five ladder games (6.0/game) and a mixture of patient and aggressive hitters. Avoid treating Sandringham as a weak offense simply because its record is below .500.

PITCHING MATCHUP | MELBOURNE HITTERS

Matthew Wilson: primary innings source (28.0 IP in four pitching appearances); 36 hits, 7 walks, 20 strikeouts and 15 ER in supplied games. Build patient, quality plate appearances rather than assuming early bullpen exposure.

Riley Trad: 14 walks in 5.1 IP, with 7 strikeouts; strong incentive to take borderline pitches and force strikes.

Joshua Meyer: limited pitching sample with five walks over 3.0 IP; stay selective.

Chase Hodkinson: one three-inning appearance; avoid overinterpreting the limited sample.

Lachlan Jeffree: 6 ER and 3 HBP in 1.1 IP; attack hittable strikes but be prepared for inconsistent command.

Team approach: 30 walks and 50 hits allowed over 40.2 recorded innings. Make pitchers work, take free passes, and emphasize situational hitting with runners on base.
