Qualifier: * next to AVG = fewer than 8 PA (2.0 PA per four reported games). All players retained. AVG ordered high to low; table totals excluded from ranking. Unknown batting handedness left blank. Scouting color definitions: red priority threat, yellow caution, green attack, gray limited sample.

Source consistency: Shakore Bragg-Taylor has one hit not fully assigned to a hit-type subcolumn in the supplied rows; his H is preserved and SLG is calculated from H plus extra-base hits. Totals are source-derived and should be rechecked if GameDay revises a scorebook.

Pitching sample: 24.0 IP, 24 hits allowed, 6 walks, 28 strikeouts and 8 earned runs in four reported games. One out in baseball notation = .1, not one-tenth. The ERA * marks fewer than 1/3 IP per team game (fewer than 1.2 IP across four games).

MELBOURNE HITTERS | PITCHING SCOUTING READ

Kai Reum — CAUTION: 10.0 IP, 11 H, 3 BB, 11 K, 3.60 ERA and 1.40 WHIP. Multiple appearances and a strike-throwing profile. Avoid chasing secondary offerings; look for a hittable pitch early rather than assuming walks.

Kynan Jones — CAUTION: 8.0 IP, 11 H, 1 BB, 8 K, 4.50 ERA. Very low walk total, but has allowed consistent contact. Attack mistakes in the zone; avoid passive plate appearances.

Cooper Busch — CAUTION: 4.0 scoreless IP, only 1 hit, 1 BB and 6 K in the recorded game; also a middle-order offensive threat. Treat as a legitimate two-way option, not merely a position player.

Conor Myles — CAUTION / SMALL LOCAL SAMPLE: 1.0 IP, 2 K, 1 BB, 0 H in the Waverley sample. Confirmed high-level NCAA Division I experience at UTSA; preparation must not rely on a single one-inning local outing.

Josh White — LIMITED: One inning, 1 H, 1 K and no walks. Insufficient data to establish repeatable pitch usage or command trends.

BATTING APPROACH | MELBOURNE PITCHERS

Priority damage: Charlie Collins (two recorded HR), Benjamin Fierenzi (two HR in last reported game and repeated extra-base contact), and Cooper Busch / Damon Hill (high averages and extra-base production). Avoid elevated middle-zone pitches with runners on.

Traffic control: Waverley scored 54 runs in four reported games. Limit free bases and defensive extra outs; force contact quality rather than gambling on a few strikeouts.

Running game: The supplied rows record multiple steal attempts from Fierenzi, Collins and Busch. Maintain pitcher holds, catcher readiness and cutoff discipline; verify duplicate SB/CS fields if official scorers revise the exports.

WAVERLEY | PERSONNEL, USAGE & PRELIMINARY STRATEGY

Higher-level experience verified where possible | Data and game-day availability remain subject to confirmation

HIGHER-LEVEL EXPERIENCE | VERIFIED PUBLIC RECORDS

Conor Myles (LHP): 2026 NCAA Division I pitcher at UTSA (University of Texas at San Antonio), previously Odessa College. Official UTSA profile documents multi-season starting experience; 2026 published college line includes 74.0 IP and 65 K. This pedigree substantially outweighs the 1.0-inning Waverley snapshot.

Benjamin (Ben) Fierenzi: Waverley Baseball Club college-player history lists him at Arizona Western College; Baseball Victoria's college-player page lists Long Island University. Treat as a verified U.S.-college-experience hitter; exact current affiliation and timing are not independently verified here.

Charlie Collins: Baseball Victoria reported his 2020/21 Melbourne Aces ABL signing and prior Victoria representation. Victorian college listing also includes Southeastern (Florida). Confirm the present player identity with the Waverley roster before applying external career history.

Reece Longstaff: Baseball Victoria reported a 2020/21 Melbourne Aces ABL signing, former Victoria state-team and international youth representation. Consider experienced versus high-quality pitching, though the four-game local batting line is small.

Kai Reum: Waverley Baseball Club verifies previous Fordham University Division I Director of Player Development role and more than six years of specialized coaching; this is verified coaching background, not evidence of NCAA playing statistics. Club says his playing career moved from infield/hitting to pitching.

PROVISIONAL LINEUP & COACHING USAGE

Top-of-order candidates: Fierenzi and Collins appear frequently and provide combination on-base/extra-base value. No batting order is proven from the unordered box-score export; this is a usage projection, not a confirmed batting order.

Middle-order power: Busch, Hill, Evans, Dunn and Longstaff contribute damage in the available games. Recent roster rotation includes Jack Daniels, Shakore Bragg-Taylor and Mitchell Homfray.

Likely arms to prepare for: Reum and Jones have the greatest combined reported pitching volume (10.0 and 8.0 IP). Busch has a dominant four-inning outing; Myles is a high-level option with limited Waverley innings. Actual 14 November availability is unknown.

PRE-GAME STRATEGY | MELBOURNE

Offense: Plan for strike-throwing pitchers. Study Reum/Jones sequences if video is available; seek first-pitch strikes you can handle, not indiscriminate early swings. Against Busch/Myles, prioritize quality decisions and stress the running game only when reads support it.

Defense: Keep Fierenzi, Collins and Busch from creating multiple-run innings. Pitch to edges, use planned infield positioning, and avoid extra bases on balls in play. The offensive sample is strong but derived from only four scored games.

Pregame verification: Refresh the report immediately when 3 Oct Geelong, 31 Oct Essendon or 7 Nov Blackburn is posted. Confirm missing wins/losses, the announced starter, handedness, key absences, and any revised player box scores before issuing a final attack plan.

SCOUTING READ LEGEND & SOURCE LIMITATIONS

RED = priority threat | YELLOW = caution | GREEN = favorable/attack | GRAY = insufficient sample. Scouting reads are preliminary judgment calls, not league rankings.

Source: Four user-pasted GameDay player exports, reported Waverley ladder and scores, plus externally verified college/ABL biographies. Three additional schedule results are missing. On-base rates use known H, BB, HBP and SF; CI excluded from official OBP formula. Fielding stats and incomplete handedness are not inferred. The user-provided scoring tables may have unresolved hit-type differences.
